ROTEN GALLERIES TO EXHIBIT AT THE BETHEL INN AUGUST 12

The Bethel Inn will sponsor an exhibit and sale of approximately 1,000 original prints from the famed Ferdinand Roten Galleries collection on August 12. The event will be held at the Inn.

Works spanning six centuries will be featured in the show, which will include prints by such masters as Rouault, Hogarth, Goya, Miro and Picasso, and many of today's artists, famous and not yet famous. In addition, there will be a collection of Western and Oriental manuscript pages, some dating to the 13th century. Prices range from $10 to the thousands, but most prints, including those of the masters, are under $100.

Area residents will have an opportunity not only to view but to leaf through one of the world's outstanding collections of original graphics. A world-respected authority on graphics of all types, Roten mounts over 400 exhibits annually for major museums throughout the United States and Canada. These exhibits, utilized by museums to extend the range of their shows, are in addition to the 1,500 exhibits and sales arranged by Roten each year for universities, community organizations, and corporations.

All of the work in the forthcoming show is displayed informally so that visitors may see each print at close range. The public is invited to come in, browse, ask questions about the work, artists, and the various graphic techniques. Exhibit hours are from 11 a. m. to 4 p. m.

COMMENTS FROM THE OFFICE OF THE TOWN MANAGER

Notices will soon be sent to all property owners on sewer mains that they must connect. There are approximately two dozen who must do this. Due to wet ground conditions we have not forced the issue so far this year. The goal will be to have all services installed prior to cold weather. The town will not install services unless the property owner does not do it, then after a notice is sent we can have the work done and bill the owner.

We will commence tarring as soon as weather permits. The product comes from the Portland area and they do not send trucks this far unless they are quite sure it is not going to rain. It appears we will be able to do the work planned if we use the material they have available. We will have to substitute tar for other products in some instances.

Food stamps with a purchase value of $6,667.00 was distributed last month. The participants in the program paid $3,285.75 as their contribution toward the stamps. We expect more activity as additional people become certified.

BLUE CROSS/BLUE SHIELD ANNOUNCE LIBERALIZATION OF BENEFITS

Many Maine Blue Cross and Blue Shield subscribers now enjoy increased in-hospital and outpatient benefits with benefit liberalizations announced by Richard P. Nelson, President of Maine Blue Cross and Blue Shield.

Non-group and standard group subscribers will now receive full coverage for diagnostic services covered under the Blue Cross Revised "F" Certificate as well as coverage for diagnostic services performed in anticipation of outpatient treatment.

"Previous to the benefit expansion," Nelson explained, "the benefit for diagnostic services to outpatients was limited to 50% of the first $70 and 100% of the expense of all diagnostic services in excess of $70."

"All of our subscribers will also be enjoying increased out-patient benefits. Outpatient benefits have been expanded to include coverage for diagnostic laboratory examinations when followed within 10 days by related surgery rendered on an out-patient basis. Previously we provided coverage for this service only when followed within 10 days by an inpatient admission."

"Both liberalizations were effected without a rate increase to either non-group or group subscribers," Nelson stated. "Blue Cross utilization has been such that existing rates were enough to absorb additional benefits to subscribers. As a non-profit organization, this is one way we can pass along savings to our members."

These liberalizations are now in effect and provide benefits for all covered expenses incurred on July 1 and after.

Miss Cathy Fiske won first place in jumping at the horse show in Andover, Vt.

Week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Parker Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stevens were Mr. and Mrs. Guy Parker Jr., Rhonda, Kim and Mitchell, Ed Fogg from Devon, Conn.; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Gwin, Tom and Mary Lou, and friend, Laura McFarland, Milford, Conn.; Vicki Parker, Allston, Mass. and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Johnson, Bailey Island.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY WILL MEET TONIGHT (AUG. 1) —TO LEARN OF LOGGING

The Bethel Historical Society meets tonight, Aug. 1, at 7:30 in the Meeting Room of the Moses Mason House.

Alan Chapman will speak on the history of logging in the area and will exhibit old tools used in the logging industry.

A reception was held in the meeting room on Friday, July 26, from 5:00 to 6:30 p. m. for those persons who had contributed in some way to the Special Edition of the "Bethel Citizen," which had been published on July 10 in cooperation with the Bethel Historical Society. About 50 people attended the reception and those who wished to do so took a guided tour of the Moses Mason House.

Inevitably there has been a lack of chronology in publicly acknowledging the generosity of donors to the Museum. Among early donations received, for instance, were the following items from Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hall: a sugar bucket; a cheese dish cover; a butter dish; a wooden quart measure; a lemon squeezer; a pewter pitcher; five silver spoons; a gem pan; a fruit dish; a beaver hat; a wooden stool; a black parasol; a silk bonnet, and a child's chair.

FUTURE OF MAINE LAKES TO BE TOPIC OF FOURTH ANNUAL MEETING OF C.O.L.A.

"Maine Lakes: What Future?" will be the theme of the Fourth Annual Meeting of the Congress of Lake Associations (COLA), a statewide organization dedicated solely to conservation of Maine Lakes. This is an especially important meeting for lake associations and individuals concerned about the future of Maine's 5,500 lakes," said COLA Executive Director, Patricia Stimels in announcing the meeting Monday.

This year's conference, which will be held this Saturday, Aug. 3, at the University of Maine at Augusta, will get underway at 8:45 a. m. and conclude at 4:30 p. m. Matthew Scott, Chief, Division of Lakes and Biological Studies, Maine Department of Environmental Protection, will be the keynote speaker.

Several other outstanding environmental leaders will be present to lead 16 special workshops in morning and afternoon sessions. Topics for the workshops will include: Public Access vs. Private Interest; The New State Plumbing Code; Lakeside Development and Erosion Control; Small Dams Management; and Water Quality Monitoring.

As a special feature the concluding portion of this year's conference will be devoted to a session with Maine legislative and gubernatorial candidates, who have been invited to discuss their views concerning the role of the political process in determining the future of Maine lakes. Thus far, George Mitchell, Democratic candidate for governor, has accepted COLA's invitation.

For further information contact the Congress of Lake Associations at 20 Willow Street in Augusta.

HEALTH COUNCIL CONTINUES PLANS FOR FAMILY HEALTH CENTER

Chairman John Laban and members of the Board of Directors of the Bethel Health and Service Council visited the Gorham, N. H., Medical Care Center to study ways and means of establishing a similar Family Health Care Center in Bethel. They were favorably impressed with the quality of the Center and the speed with which the wherewithal was gathered by the people of the Gorham area to build it.

Mr. Laban and the other officers are more certain than ever that with the cooperation and participation of the citizens of Bethel and surrounding communities, a Family Medical Care Center can be established.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors last Tuesday, an overall goal was agreed upon. Mr. Laban stated the goal to be a center which would provide 24 hours a day, seven days a week emergency coverage, diagnostic equipment, and facilities for the practice of preventive medicine.

Toward expediting attainment of their goal, assignments have been made to determine the level of public interest and willingness to participate.

Civic, social and service organizations will be contacted also, to determine their interest in helping. Other assignments include cost studies, site procurement, and an analysis of the most effective means of management and administrative of the facility, once erected.

Enthusiasm and confidence of the Council are high.

GREENWOOD CITY

— Mrs. Colista Morgan, Correspondent —

On July 23 we were up in the dewy freshness of the dawn but with a question as to the outcome of the day. Fog hung low spinning itself above the pond like a strange liquid silk. The weather report wasn't promising a good day. But at 7:15 I joined three others for a trip to St. Joseph's College, then for a day's cruise on Casco Bay.

Our boat left at ten o'clock and the weather had made an attempt at clearing.

The waters were at this time still and glassy; the air balmy.

The boat churned her way out into the bay, while ahead we saw the islands, often called the Calendar Islands: 365 if all rock outcroppings showing at low tide are counted. Actually there are far fewer, but those that are there are picturesque; carved by Great Ice Age Glaciers.

Our narrator was most interesting with his stories and humor as he told about the Diamonds, Cliff, Jewell, Peaks, Long, Chebeague, and Eagle to name a few of them.

The old forts, with their "green hair" have faced the hostile ocean for many years. Their surroundings worn by the breakers and the storms and disintegrated by the winds, still stand bold. Their walls descend to the eternal unrest of the sea; at dawn the sun rising out of the ocean glides them with a light which gradually thins and vanishes into day.

Here and there as is typical of the Maine coast rose great walls of gray rock clothed with dark growth; the rugged face dented with hollows, eerie whispings remote and incessant.

Cool curves of beach, without people, smiled among the boulders, while mile upon mile there was the bowl of blue with dots of sails, steamers, and lobster boats breaking white until fainter and fainter out on the horizon they became slow-fading specks.

"Bloom-arbored, hundred-harbored,

Glorious state of Maine,"

Mildred Hobbs The distant Portland Headlight standing on an exposed and rugged headland split and seamed by ages of breaking waves we saw in the far distance. Built on authority of our first president; it is the oldest and most pictured on the Pine Tree Coast.

Off one island came the gulls in scores as passengers tossed them food over which they skirmished, screeching and crying, wing-rowing so neatly and quickly while at all times a picture of grace. Then some flapped out over the free waters while others hovered, rearranged themselves in flight and settled on the sea.

We were relaxed and contented just to sit and watch.

All too soon we were on our way back seeing different islands and views; rocky, low-lying and green.

Our narrator pointed out a lone tree on a long beach which some had already noticed and compared to a palm because of its shape. Its branches rose high against the horizon and the clouds. We were told that its age was more than a century.

Occasionally a roller lifted green across an island point and smashed on the headland changing the face of the shore. Then sheets of spray roared up boiling white.

On arrival we again drove to St. Joseph's College where we joined others for supper and an evening of visiting.

At home once more, the fireflies were dancing on the lawn. I soon was dreaming of the rise and hiss of spray seething its way over wide open waters so buoyant and free.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonas Holt and Mrs. Clyde Morgan joined Robert Holt and family at Red Park on Sunday.

NORTHWEST BETHEL

Mrs. Louise B. Chapman, Corres.

Yes, I'm alive and well and living in Northwest Bethel. Over the past few weeks my time was given completely to the Woodsmen's show held on Mollycokett Day. However, one day last week I had a chance to think back. I was on my way downtown when the smell of freshly cut hay drifted into the car. As soon as that happened so many memories popped into my head that it was almost overwhelming. The most vivid memory I had was of seeing the hay truck pulling into the barn with my great grandfather on top of the load, and my grandfather, and usually Nana too, walking behind, pitchforks in hand. "Gramp" would finish helping unload the hay, then cross the front lawn, and sit under the big maple tree across the driveway. He always sat in the same spot, taking off his straw hat wiping his forehead, and leaning his pitchfork against the tree, in easy reach, awaiting the return trip to the fields. Soon, Nana would come out of the house carrying mason canning jars, and in those jars the reward for all that morning's work—homemade root beer, sweet and tangy! The grandfathers and uncles would talk. We children would drink the cold root beer, thinking about one more load, and taking turns pulling the drag rake. Occasionally grandpa would let us ride the big rake behind the tractor, but usually this job belonged to one of the more experienced uncles! Hay- ing then was a family affair for grandpa. He still has grandchildren helping him, and I hope that in the years to come my two girls can share in the summer harvest. Again, I was reminded by the memories of childhood how really important such things are.

Carroll Murphy, Greenwood, has been doing some carpenter work for Charles Mason, inside his house.

A new house will be seen in the neighborhood soon. Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Anderson, and two boys, Songo Pond, will have a new home next to Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Lapham's.

Alan Chapman, and Carroll Murphy attended a Woodsmen's show in Jay Peak, Vt., on Saturday, returning home to attend the bicentennial show held in Errol, N. H., on Sunday. They took first place in log rolling on Sunday before the show was called because of rain. The girls and I went along on Sunday.

The Gibson's strawberries are gone, but were delicious while they lasted!

The neighborhood gardens are looking—delicious!

Nothing's too big.
Nothing's too small.
Just let us know,
What you want us to haul.

THE TRUTH THAT HEALS
A Christmas Science radio series

THREATER, one of the most unusual acting troupes in the country, will perform "The Incomparable Mulla Nasrudin" in a special benefit for WCBT-TV, Channel 10, at Lake Region School, Bridgton at 7:30 p. m. Saturday, August 10. The family-oriented program is sponsored by The Friends of Bridgton.

Based on the exploits of a legendary Persian folk-hero, "The Incomparable Mulla Nasrudin" consists of 31 one-act plays from which the Bryant Pond professional troupe will draw for the special program. Legend has it that the young Mulla, who was from a land in the East, was able to attempt to overcome the attempts of an evil schoolmaster governing the minds of his students. Because Nasrudin was unaffected the schoolmaster put a curse on him, condemning him to the life of a fool. The curse was made less severe, though, since the Mulla's stories and foolishness bring happiness to audiences everywhere.

Information concerning advance tickets may be acquired at the Bridgton Pharmacy or by contacting WCBT at Box 958, Lewiston Me. Attn: Mulla.

GREAT PONDS LAW

General Information and Enforcement Procedure of the Great Ponds Law, Title 38, Section 422 (MRS).

The following is information on the Great Ponds Law which became effective in its present form on Sept. 21, 1971. The information is designed to help in making people aware of the law, to prevent violations due to ignorance of the law, to clarify enforcement procedure and to prevent environmental damage which might result if the law is ignored.

The Department of Environmental Protection would appreciate any help that can be given in making people aware of the law.

The law requires anyone who proposes to dredge, fill or construct a permanent structure in, on, over or abutting a Great Pond to submit an application and gain approval from the Board of Environmental Protection prior to construction.

A Great Pond is any natural pond with a surface area in excess of 10 acres or any artificially formed pond with a surface area in excess of 30 acres, the shore of which is owned by two or more owners.

Activity covered by this law includes:

1. Construction of bathhouses.
2. Construction of retaining walls.
3. Depositing of fill in the pond or near enough to the pond and in a manner such as to cause erosion of the fill into the pond.
4. Construction of permanent docks.
5. Dredging for any purpose, such as to deepen the pond, create a channel, marina, etc.
6. Placing sand to create sandy beaches or bulldozing the shore area.
7. Construction of boat ramp.

Activity which does not require approval:

1. Temporary structures (those structures which are removed from the pond for more than five (5) months in any calendar year.
2. Floats which are removed during the winter months.

FOR YOUR INFORMATION
The Land Use Regulation Commission was created to plan for the proper use of land resources located in Maine's plantations and unorganized townships. We find that many people still do not know that they must get a permit from LURC for certain land use activities. We hope this brief summary will be helpful.

In all plantations and unorganized townships, a permit is required for the following:

1. To Build Any Structure, including the placement of mobile or modular homes. An exception to this is that structures originally built before Sept. 23 1971, may be "renovated" without a permit and "accessory structures," such as garages, new porches, or minor construction, may be added without a permit to structures built before Sept. 23, 1971.

2. To Subdivide any land -- To subdivide means to divide a single parcel of land into three or more lots of less than 40 acres each within a five year period.

3. To Develop any land -- Development includes construction of new or expansion of existing gravel pits, roads, camping areas, ski trails, bridges and similar activities.

4. Agriculture and Timber Harvesting in certain areas. In those plantations and townships which have been zoned, a permit is required before farming or cutting can be done in some critical areas such as deer wintering yards, wetlands, a 250 foot strip along shorelines, high mountain areas above 2,500 feet and other important historic or natural areas. A list of all plantations and townships which have been zoned is available from the LURC office and

R. A. A. P. A. TO PRESENT "GUYS AND DOLLS" IN NOVEMBER

The Rumford Association for the Advancement of the Performing Arts will present the musical-comedy "Guys and Dolls," in November. Try-outs will be held on Aug. 26 and 27, at the R. A. A. P. A. Hall on Lowell Street, Rumford, from 5 p. m. to 9 p. m. Scripts and chorus books are on three-day loan from the Rumford Public Library for those who wish to read them before try-outs.

The production will be directed by the same trio that presented "Camelot"; Mrs. Judith Kuhn, Rumford High School, chorus director; Miss Ann Crouse, orchestra director and Burton deFrees, stage director, both of Mexico High School. The evening performance dates, Nov. 28, 29, and 30, will add to the festivities of the Thanksgiving holiday season and enable vacationing college students and out-of-town holiday guests to attend one of the performances. There will also be a matinee on Saturday, Nov. 30.

"Guys and Dolls," a highly successful Broadway production directed by George S. Kaufman, opened on Nov. 24, 1950, and ran for 1200 performances. The musical was inspired by Damon Runyon's characterizations of Broadway life; the music and lyrics were written by Frank Loesser ("Where's Charley?"). "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying." The book, telling of the "Oldest Established Permanent Floating Crap Game in New York" tells also of the comic romance of Miss Adelaide with Nathan Detroit, whom she loves "A Bushel and a Peck". The unconventional romance of Sarah Brown, Salvation Army Missionary and Sky Masterson, the free-wheeling, free-living gambler is the result of a sure-fire bet that backfires.

The cast includes Salvation Army members, Broadway hustlers, gamblers, and tourists; Cuban dancers, juvenile delinquents, police, and a bevy of chorus girls of the Hot Box Cafe.

Try-outs for "Guys and Dolls" will include an opportunity for all interested Greater Rumford Area citizens to indicate their preference for backstage work or "walk-on" parts, as well as auditioning for larger roles. Rehearsals for chorus and actors will be held on Tuesdays and Thursdays during September and October, and Tuesdays and Wednesdays in November.

The orchestra, which will require a strong brass section, will rehearse on a schedule to be given at a later date.

West Paris townspeople believe in "standing by" their boys and girls as was shown Saturday evening when the West Paris Fire Department Auxiliary and the West Paris Grange served a benefit supper for Roberta and Erlon Whitman and netted $601. Many people were turned away at the door as the food supply ran out.

Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Yeaton have moved a new trailer on to his mother's lot.

Mr. and Mrs. John O'Hearon are finishing off rooms in the upstairs and the five girls have moved up already.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Tripp, Lewiston, moved Tuesday to the former Pierce house.

After a few visits at South Paris, Doris Lawrence is sporting some new choppers (dentures).

Callers at Barretts, Mr. and Mrs. John Estes, Doris Lawrence, Lowell Cleaveland, Lois O'Hearon.

Sp4 Chapman is serving with the U. S. Army at Fort Carson, Col., and Mrs. Chapman is licensed as Maine's first and only woman jockey. They are presently residing in Colorado.
